Happy Holidays! Remember to Shop Locally This Season

Hard to believe it is December already. But I suppose I say that every year. In retail, we plan for the holidays nearly year-round, beginning immediately after the New Year. Thus, in some ways it always seems like Christmas around here. Yet, when the stores are finally set up . . . when Noelle finishes her awesome window displays . . . when the holiday music permeates the airwaves . . . when some of our staff don those Santa hats . . . well, it's always hard for me to believe that December is already here!

This past year has certainly been a challenging one in many ways. Yet around COLE HARDWARE, we love challenges, and change is really about the only thing that remains consistent about our business. That, along with our great staff and our wonderful patrons, makes COLE HARDWARE a fun and happy place to work.

This holiday season brings about some changes to the retail environment in the City, too. As I write this, a huge big box retailer inside our City is going to be opening very soon. In

Dave Karp and the Christmas Trees

When Dave Karp bought our existing Cole Street location fifty years ago, he prided himself on having anything that customers requested available. So when a shopper asked if he might be able to get Christmas trees, he didn't think twice—he found a source and began offering them. Back then, Dave even delivered the trees himself, as many of our longtime customers remember.

Dave found a West Coast family business run by his new friend Donald to supply trees. The business is now run by Ken, Donald's son, and to this day is still our source for trees. Although Dave is somewhat retired, he's still actively involved in our holiday tree acquisitions, visiting the tree lot each year and making sure we only offer the freshest trees available.

In fact, probably nothing we do the entire year brings as much joy to Dave—except maybe our award-winning window displays—as our Christmas tree sales. Each morning in December, Dave calls us to inquire as to how many trees we sold the day before. Crew members are all aware that they better get the Christmas trees out and ready for holiday shoppers as soon as they arrive in our stores, in case Dave pays them a surprise visit.

As Dave points out, our trees are extremely well priced compared to most tree lots in the City and will be available at our Cole Street, Mission Street and Polk Street locations the week of Thanksgiving. Choose from noble fir or Douglas fir. Frequent Shoppers enjoy free weekend delivery.

Happy Holidays! Remember to Shop Locally This Season

fact, they are probably open for business now. Additionally, Target is on the drawing board for at least two locations in the City. Now that the dam has been cracked, so to speak, expect more and more big box, corporate retailers to be setting up shop here. This was the futile message during the rough-and-tumble Home Depot fights of yesteryear. Let one big box into the City, and their cousins are sure to follow. This does not bode well for our unique neighborhood shopping districts. But we'll see what the future brings.

When you think of doing your holiday shopping this season, I ask you to shop locally as much as you can. By doing so, you are not only helping our many local merchants who are part of our community, you are also recycling your dollars into our local economy. Much, much more of your hard-earned money stays within our community when you shop with a local merchant versus a national, corporate chain (see www.sfloma.org for details). And if you shop locally, we are going to sweeten the pot for you this season.

The San Francisco Locally Owned Merchant Alliance (SFLOMA) is comprised of locally owned merchants across our City in many different retail sectors: bookstores, bike shops, sporting goods stores, clothing boutiques, flower shops, ice cream parlors and more. Check out the many members of SFLOMA at www.sfloma.org. Note the ones you can shop with this holiday season.

After doing so, bring in your original receipt to any of our stores and receive a 20% discount on your COLE HARDWARE purchase as a reward for shopping locally. (You must spend at least $20 at the SFLOMA merchant in order to receive the discount. Offer good through Christmas. One discount per household.) This is our little way of encouraging you to explore our neighborhood shopping areas this season and rewarding you for doing so. Those on your gift list will be rewarded with lots of unique surprises, too!

Thank you for your loyalty to COLE HARDWARE. On behalf of the more than 100 individuals serving you, we wish you a very happy holiday season!

WHAT'S UNIQUE?

Bora Clamp Edge™ Set

A good, sturdy clamp for use with various saws and routers for making straightedge cuts, the Bora Clamp Edge, for circular saws, jig saws, routers, biscuit jointers and more, is a clamping straightedge guide that is ideal for cutting applications where a straight edge is desired. The Bora Clamp Edge can easily accommodate cutting and clamping everything from dimensional lumber to large sheets of flat building materials.

The three sizes that we stock, 24", 36" and 50", will fit a wide range of applications, and these multipurpose straightedge clamps boast many unique features. The Clamp Edge clamping pads have an exclusive swivel head that accommodates clamping up to 22.5 degrees either left or right. This feature allows the user to make angled cuts without having to resort to extra clamps to hold the edge guide in position.

Built for everyday use, the Clamp Edge features an aircraft-grade extruded aluminum body for straight, accurate cuts and rigid clamping. The large, oversized clamping handle allows for increased clamping pressure, while the soft-grip rubberized clamping pad insures that the material is firmly held in place without marring the work. The Clamp Edge also comes with an integrated hanging loop for convenient storage while not in use. Sold individually or in the new three-piece set at the special introductory price of $99.99. (Sku 275278, INTRODUCTORY SPECIAL $99.99 Regular price $139.99) Individually priced at $39.99–$49.99. (Skus 275275–7)

Doggie Water Bottles

San Francisco is a dog-loving city and many dogs enjoy their best friends' active outdoor lifestyles. While reusable water bottles have practically become an appendage when we're out hiking or enjoying a day at the beach, it can be inconvenient to carry a water bowl for your pooch. Green Bottle™ has the perfect solution in their new Doggie Bottles. Equipped with a roller-head (similar to those found on a roll-on deodorant), they allow dogs to enjoy a drink of water when they need one. Made of food-grade stainless steel, these bottles are also BPA-free. (Sku 871900, INTRODUCTORY SPECIAL $11.99 Regular price $16.99)

Thumb-Lite™ Stick-On LED Light

Thumb-Lite's compact design provides an easy way to turn anything into a flashlight. Whether unlocking a car door or finding something dropped in the dark, Thumb-Lite is a convenient way to provide extra light when needed. Unlike other compact lights, Thumb-Lite can be used effortlessly with one hand. Designed to be used the way a person naturally grips an object, Thumb-Lite is easily activated and shines light in the direction the object is pointing. No tools or assembly are required. Just pull off the adhesive protector and stick it on a key or other object—it's that easy. Because of its small size and advanced adhesive, Thumb-Lite sticks to any size key and is an ideal stocking stuffer. (Sku 511505, INTRODUCTORY SPECIAL $2.99 Regular price $3.99)

Unique Wine Stain Eater®

Accidents with red wine inevitably happen during the holidays. Be prepared with Unique Wine Stain Eater, an earth-friendly product that uses bacterial enzyme action to remove stains and odors caused by wine, food, ketchup, mustard, juice, pasta sauce, butter and oils—or any organic stain. Safe to use on clothing, furniture and carpets, keep a bottle in your purse for those holiday office parties—and stay away from the copy machine! Available in a convenient 4-ounce size. December Garden Tasks

In December, our focus tends to move indoors as we prepare for the holidays and all of the entertaining and celebrating that take place inside. But there still are plenty of outdoor winter chores you can perform in your garden to keep it blooming and prepared for the upcoming spring. Our garden centers are also full of beautiful plants, festive wreaths and garlands to bring the outdoors inside for the holidays.

✓ Potted Christmas Trees: Consider a living tree that can be kept in a container and easily moved for years of enjoyment.

✓ Dormant Spraying: Now through February are the best months to apply dormant sprays to shrubs and trees to control overwintering insects and diseases.

✓ Plant Bulbs: You can still plant daffodils, hyacinths, tulips, crocuses and other spring-flowering bulbs. Bulbs should be planted about three times deeper than the diameter of the bulb.

✓ Take Cuttings: This month is a good time to take cuttings of rhododendrons, azaleas and more. Cuttings should come from the new established tip growth and should be kept indoors in a well-lighted spot.

✓ Winter Color: Plant pansies, violas, primroses, stocks, calendulas, Iceland poppies and cyclamen to add some color this time of year.

✓ Compost and Clean: Clean up fallen leaves and add to your compost pile. Pull weeds before they start flowering and go to seed.

✓ Prune Apple Trees: Weak and unproductive branches should be thinned out to allow the sunlight into the tree. Older spurs can be rejuvenated by cutting back, especially following a light crop year.

✓ Bring the Outdoors In: Our stores have a large selection of poinsettias, fresh wreaths and garlands for indoor decorating. Personalize your evergreen wreath with berries or mini-lightbulbs.

✓ Plant Trees and Shrubs: Early winter is ideal to plant and transplant shrubs and trees.

They will sustain less shock this time of year. Add generous amounts of compost, peat moss and manure to the existing soil. Stake large trees to protect them during the winter storms we will hopefully have.

See you in the garden!

Keep Your Gardening Tools in Shape!

It's winter and the plants are resting, so now is a perfect time to take care of those tools you've been using all year. Good garden tools will give you many years of service, given proper care. Here's what to do to make them last:

- Clean tools off after using them. This does not have to take long—simply hose down and quickly brush off soil with a stiff brush. Periodically give metal parts a “once over” with a wire brush and wipe with oil to fend off rust.
- Treat aging wooden handles with boiled linseed oil or varnish (as many coats as the wood can take).
- Sharpen edges of hoes and shovels with a file (file in one direction only, toward the outside of the edge, following the original angle). An abrasive disk attached to an electric drill is useful for more thorough sharpening (wear eye protection).

- Protect tools from the elements when not in use. If you arrange a place for each tool to hang, you'll be more likely to return it to its “home” when the job is done.

Meet Marc: Our Master Locksmith

COLE HARDWARE would like to introduce our customers to Marc Estoque, our Master Class Locksmith. Marc, a native San Franciscan, has been working with COLE HARDWARE for more than 15 years; in fact, he has over 25 years' experience installing and maintaining locks in the many Victorians and Edwardians in our City. He takes pride in his work and offers unparalleled customer service in the COLE HARDWARE tradition: "Your satisfaction guaranteed!"

Recently, we sat down with Marc to learn more about how he navigates his profession. Marc says that a typical call these days is a rekey (combination change), whereby, for many different reasons, a customer needs his or her locks changed. The average person just needs the lock changed or is locked out. In most cases, Marc provides fast 30-minute response times.

Marc says, "One should take a few minutes to recall who might have copies of your property keys" (a former housemate, dog walker, tradesperson, contractor, etc.). Many people in San Francisco live in shared housing. Locks and keys are rarely changed when a property is bought, sold or rented, which means old tenants and their friends, associates, and so on, still might have keys to your home. Marc suggests that homeowners, businesses, and property managers purchase a lock system that will block unauthorized duplication of keys. This concept is called "key control." COLE HARDWARE carries locks that operate with high-security and patented keys. Marc advises his customers to consider master key systems as

When asked what advice he could give to our customers, Marc says, "Customers should consider getting a security consultation if they have any doubts or concerns about the overall security of their property. Additionally, they should install quality locks such as Schlage® or high-security locks like Medeco®." If a customer would like a security consultation, Marc can do a complete walk-through of the property. He will look for any security vulnerabilities and point out any substandard hardware (locks, windows, doors, etc.). He will then provide a written summary that will include suggestions as well as hardware recommendations. A standard security consultation is $150. If customers choose Marc to upgrade their security, the $150 fee is applied to the final bill.

Marc is versed in the many different high-security locks and their installations, including commercial applications such as magnetic card readers, biometric (finger print reader) locks, and push-button entry systems. In addition,

Marc also provides automotive service for customers locked out of their cars.

We have seen so many advancements in technology in the past 20 years, although many of the changes have been about design and decorative hardware rather than technology alone. Marc says, "Sometimes customers are looking for an updated look for a home, or they may want to keep the vintage look of the original." At times, locks just need some attention, rather than replacement. Marc can work with the customer to achieve either contemporary or vintage design while maintaining or enhancing security.

From simple rekeys and dead bolt installations to high-security locks and master key systems, Marc can do it all. If you would like to contact Marc for your locksmith needs, you can call him directly at 415/760-LOCK (5625), or call our Repair Referral Service at 415/753-2653 ext. 3, and we will put you in touch with Marc. Our Father-Son Carpentry and Construction Team: Michael and Kelly

Do you need to fix a wobbly threshold or repair a custom window? How about replacing those treads on your back stairs? Considering an entire remodel of your bedroom, bathroom, and kitchen? For the past 25 years the father-son team Michael and Kelly have been expertly remodeling and constructing residential projects throughout San Francisco. With unrivaled carpentry experience, they guarantee satisfaction and are your first choice for residential repair, remodel and construction.

Michael and Kelly achieve a perfect balance of mixing old-school expertise with new-school ideas as they strive to help clients meet their triple bottom line: perfection, price and planet. They are uniquely able to help clients achieve their dreams while offering reasonable, scalable options, and balancing sustainable strategies with the practical realities of homeownership. Not only does Michael have the expert knowledge and craftsmanship to fix or build literally anything, he works closely with clients to achieve exactly what they want. Kelly's knowledge of alternative building materials, green building options, and cutting-edge industry standards complements Michael's expertise nicely. Michael and Kelly perform all work themselves, from demolition and deconstruction, to foundation and framing, to finish work and final touches. With both Michael and Kelly on-site from start to finish, each project is given the attention it deserves.

Originally from upstate New York, Michael moved to San Francisco in 1980. His background in carpentry, fine woodwork and design is extensive. After going to college for civil engineering, Michael first apprenticed with San Francisco Renaissance, where he focused on Victorian restoration and fine carpentry. Supplementing his experience in home construction, he has also worked in other areas of the industry, such as surveying and architectural drafting.

Born and raised in San Francisco, Kelly graduated from Lewis & Clark College in May 2008 with a bachelor's degree in environmental studies. Before college he worked as an electrical apprentice and worked seasonally as a carpenter's apprentice throughout school.

Kelly designed and implemented the green building education program at the David Brower Center, known as the "Greenest Building in Berkeley." He continues to be involved in the environmental design and green building community and is continually searching for affordable and cutting-edge green strategies.

That this father-son team has been successful for so long is due precisely to the quality of Michael's work. Here are just two endorsements from some of his past clients:

"Michael is truly a genius! His talents and superb carpentry skills have touched all aspects of our home. We have had the pleasure of knowing him for about a decade. Not only has he created simplicity and ease of function, he is also an artist who finds ways to incorporate beauty into everything he touches. He always finds the 'path of least resistance' and works quickly and easily."

—Victoria and Richard

"After searching for a carpenter for some time, I found Mike to be a 'find.' I came to realize that he is a general contractor masquerading as a carpenter. He is able to make quality decisions and recommendations based on his years of experience. He is efficient, on time, and fastidious in his work. He has a collection of other tradespeople he can refer a potential client to so as to reduce a client's angst as to whom else can be called upon to finish a given job. He is a most agreeable person and easy to get along with on any type of job required of him. I do wholly endorse him to anyone seeking the services of a carpenter."

—James

HOLIDAY TRADITIONS

A Short History of Christmas Trees

Nothing makes a home more festive or aromatic over the holidays than a freshly cut Christmas tree. The Christmas tree has become such a recognizable symbol and part of the holidays over generations, but many of us might not know its origins. Long before Christmas trees as we know them today were around, plants and trees that remained green year-round have held special meaning. Many ancient cultures believed that evergreens would protect against ills and evil spirits and hung boughs over doorways and windows. The Celts believed that evergreens represented everlasting life.

Sixteenth century German Protestant reformer Martin Luther is credited as being the first person to use a tree adorned with lighted candles (though highly not recommended today) as a symbol of the tree of life in the celebration of Christmas. The first record of Christmas trees in the United States was from the late 1830s, when the German settlers of Pennsylvania erected a Tannenbaum in their homes.

In 1846, England's popular Queen Victoria and her German husband, Prince Albert, were sketched for a feature in a magazine with their family around a Christmas tree, which then became all the rage—although this “fad” had staying power. By the 1890s, Christmas ornaments were coming into fashion. Americans adopted this tradition, while many cultures continued to use apples, nuts and berries as the main adornments.

Traditionally the yuletide tree was set up on Christmas Eve and remained up until January 6, the Epiphany, in some religious traditions the day the three wise men made it to the manger. It's hard to imagine setting up a tree the day before Christmas with how ornate tree decorating has become.

Artificial trees gained popularity and prominence when they were in vogue in the 1960s and the silver aluminum tinsel tree made its debut. Although this fad passed as fashions do, these aluminum trees have once again become cool because of their kitsch factor. They come in pink, purple, blue—even black. Artificial trees have come a long way, and some are practically indistinguishable from real trees. Many come lighted, eliminating the daunting task of decorating with messy, tangled strings of last year's lights.

Ever wonder about those pickle Christmas ornaments you see? German lore (although debatable) says that the pickle was always the last ornament hung on a tree and hidden well within the boughs. St. Nicholas provides a special present for the observant child who finds the pickle.

Many of us have special memories from our childhood—picking out the perfect tree, a special ornament, the excitement of waking up on Christmas morning to see the presents under the tree or just the warm feeling a Christmas tree provides. We can probably all agree that there is no such thing as an ugly Christmas tree!

Freshly Cut, Faux or Potted Tree: Which is Best?

Just like in every aspect of our world today, Christmas trees have come under scrutiny as to their “greenness” with the environmental movement. We're not taking sides here, as many people have their firm beliefs as to what constitutes a Christmas tree. Here are some pros and cons to help you make the best choice for your home.

Freshly Cut Trees: The obvious asset to a real tree is the scent that permeates the entire house.

The Pineapple—Symbol of Hospitality

For centuries, the pineapple has symbolized welcoming and good cheer. If you see this symbol adorning a home, the homeowners are sending a sign of hospitality, warmth and affection. In 1493 Christopher Columbus brought back pineapples to Renaissance Europe from the Caribbean island of Guadalupe, which then became a coveted commodity. During a feast in Colonial America, a pineapple was placed at the center of the dining table, symbolizing the warmest welcome a hostess could extend.

This sparkling pineapple ornament is an ideal hostess gift for a holiday party or Secret Santa present. (Sku 954629, $7.99)

Nearly all Christmas trees in the United States are sustainably farmed these days and are probably somewhat local. Most tree farms plant two or three trees for every harvested tree. While real trees are compostable, the downside is that they are used only one season.

Faux Trees: Used over again year to year, artificial trees provide for easy set up and dismantling and don't drop needles.

Potted Trees: These can be used year after year and then planted when they become too large to move around. There are several considerations to take into account, including buying a tree suited to your climate and where you might eventually plant the tree.

'TIS THE SEASON

Holiday Tree and Plant Care

Keep the plants and trees you purchase for the holiday season fresh and well-cared for to enjoy for as long as possible.

Cut Trees: Care for your cut Christmas tree as you would a bouquet of fresh flowers. Make a straight cut across the base of the trunk, taking off about an inch, and immediately place the trunk in water. Check the water level often. Place the tree in a cool spot, away from appliances.

Keep your tree fresh with Preserve™. One 16-ounce concentrate bottle will make 2 gallons of liquid and will keep needles green with its quick absorption. (Sku 96350, $3.49) Tree Moist™ also preserves tree freshness and color, as polymer granules absorb then slowly release water. (Sku 9166422, HOT DEAL $2.99 Regular price $4.99)

Live Trees: Buy a tree that is suited to your climate zone. Think about where you'll eventually plant your tree, as live trees will grow to full size trees before you know it. With proper care in a large enough planter, you should be able to move your tree from outside to indoors to enjoy as your Christmas tree for several successive holidays.

Select the freshest-looking tree available. To test for freshness, gently grasp a branch between your thumb and forefinger and pull it toward you. Very few needles should come off in your hand. Shake or bounce the tree on its container. You should not see an excessive amount of green needles fall to the ground. Some loss of interior brown needles is normal.

Keep your live tree indoors for no more than 10 days, keeping it well watered and away from heat. After the holidays, move your tree outdoors where it will get filtered sunlight and protection from wind. Allow it two to three weeks to acclimatize, and then put it where it will stay until next December—or plant it. You can keep the same live tree in its container through several holiday seasons, depending on how fast it grows (plant it before it becomes root-bound). Be sure it gets the right amount of light and water.

Pick your live tree up by the pot—not by the stem. Many live plants start their decline during careless transport. Protect your tree en route to your home.

Poinsettias: Keep your new poinsettia in bright light, avoiding direct afternoon sun. Keep the temperature around 65°F to 70°F and the soil moist, but not too wet. Avoid drafts and dry heat, such as too near a fireplace or heater, and feed it a well-balanced fertilizer.

With luck and dedication you may be able to get your poinsettia to bloom next year.

In March or April, when the bracts begin to turn a muddy green, cut the plant back to 8 inches tall. Keep it near a sunny window, and by May it should have new growth. Transplant it to a larger pot, and during the summer put it outside. Fertilize it with a balanced fertilizer twice a month until December. Around the first of October, start giving it 14 hours of darkness and 6 to 8 hours of bright sun, keeping the temperature about 70°F. Hopefully, your poinsettia will be blooming again in December.

Christmas Cactus: Another popular Christmas plant is the Zigo cactus with its beautiful blooms on the tip of the cactus leaves. One of our customers still has her grandmother's plant and treats it like an heirloom.

Withholding water will form buds. The plant likes bright light indoors (but not direct sun) and well-drained soil. Water only when the top half of the soil feels dry; water regularly except for three weeks after the blooming has finished. Put it outside in the shade in the summer; then gradually reintroduce the plant to your house in the fall, and in mid-October begin the dark treatment mentioned above for the poinsettias. Keep the temperature between 50°F and 60°F.

Deep-Fried Turkey

For a delicious twist on your holiday turkey, consider deep-frying. A tradition that started in the South, deep-frying has gained popularity nationwide in recent years. Deep-frying a turkey or chicken is a simple undertaking with the Bayou Classic® Turkey Fryer Kit. The kit contains a 30-quart aluminum stockpot, perforated poultry rack, vented lid, grab hook, thermometer and seasoning injector. That's basically everything you need except the turkey, the oil and the backyard!

Smaller turkeys tend to cook better in a deep fryer and will need 3 to 3½ minutes per pound. So a 15-pound turkey would only take between 45 and 60 minutes to cook. Inject your turkey with your favorite seasonings for added flavor. Try injecting your favorite beer, wine or sherry mixed with Worcestershire sauce into a chicken for a savory flavor. When using a dry powder marinade, mix it with orange juice instead of water. The acidity in the orange juice enhances the marinade and acts as a meat tenderizer.

Keep in mind that only completely thawed turkeys should be deep-fried. Obviously the grease is extremely hot, so gloves, long sleeves and safety goggles should be worn. Deep-fry your turkey only in a safe area with no children or pets around. You will also need to dispose of the oil afterward, and there are several places in the City that will take the used oil, including Dogpatch Biofuels and SFGreasecycle. You can find their information and other recycling locations at www.sfenvironment.org/ecofinder. (Turkey Fryer: Sku 8109381, $74.99; LouAna® 3-Gallon Peanut Oil: Sku 8108276, $42.99)

ENVIRONMENTAL INFO

GOOD FOR THE EARTH — WE TAKE ACTION FOR THE ENVIRONMENT!

SIGG®—The Original Reusable Water Bottles

Reusable water bottles have certainly grown in popularity in recent years, as plastic one-time use bottles have been recognized as a poor environmental choice. Although they're recyclable, unfortunately many end up in a landfill.

SIGG beverage bottles are a solution! Küng, Sigg & Cie, which manufactured leisure goods, kitchenware and electrical appliances, relocated to Switzerland in 1916 to help pioneer the legendary tradition of Swiss quality. Since 1998, SIGG has concentrated on its core business: drinking bottles that deliver ultimate customer satisfaction. Today, the SIGG bottle has acquired cult status, and the design has been recognized by New York's Museum of Modern Art.

SIGG bottles are extrusion-pressed from a one-piece aluminum blank, which results in uniform, seamless walls. SIGG bottles are extremely light weight, yet very strong.

The new Wide Mouth Sport™ bottles with an adaptable lid are an example of Swiss engineering at its finest. The wide mouth opening is ice-cube friendly and easier to clean. The narrow spout is easy to drink from—no more spilling. The new SIGG EcoCare® liner, BPA- and phthalate-free, is a high-performance liner that ensures a fresh, clean taste and no metallic aftertaste. It is chemically inert and does not absorb, leach or transfer odors or flavors, no matter what beverage is inside.

Imitation may be the sincerest form of flattery, which is why there have been many copies over the years—yet none of them can match what is and remains the original Swiss bottle. They are available at COLE HARDWARE in many colors and sizes to suit your refreshment needs. Available in assorted colors. (Skus 871195, 871226-8, $19.99)

Save Energy This Holiday Season!

Swapping traditional holiday lights with newer LED versions is the easiest way to reduce energy consumption during the holidays. Somewhat more expensive than standard lights, the energy savings from LED lights more than make up for the cost over the lifetime of the strand.

For even more efficiency, employ a timer for your holiday lights. A wide range of outdoor and indoor timers make it easy to find one that suits your needs.

Power strips are another energy-saving option, as they allow power to be shut off from a power adapter.

And if you find you have holiday lights that no longer work, recycle them at any COLE HARDWARE location.

Help the environment and families with kids who have cancer!

Kerwin Children College Trust Fund: Update

Longtime readers of the Hardware Hotline and certainly longtime patrons of COLE HARDWARE will recall Jana Kerwin. Jana was a career member of our staff with a huge fan club of customers and staff. Tragically, cancer took Jana from us during the prime of her life. Jana left behind Jim, her husband, and two small children, Patrick and Chelsea.

Jana worked at the Bank of America at 9th and Irving years ago. We became enamored with her, as she was a teller dedicated to the needs of local businesses. After some cajoling and convincing, Jana left the bank and joined our Cole Street staff, where she held court for many years. In 1984, much to the disappointment of the neighborhood, Jana left Cole Street to assume the assistant manager position of our second store, at 29th and Mission. Jana eventually became the store manager of that location. At the time, women managers in the hardware store industry were rare. Jana was a trendsetter in many ways.

Jim with his two great kids, Chelsea and Patrick

She happily broke through this glass ceiling, serving as a role model for women in our business and the industry.

Leaving COLE HARDWARE to raise a family, Jana eventually came "home" again to Cole Street as a salesperson, where she worked until she no longer could. I used to visit Jana at her home. We had long talks about business, our families, the future and more. Shortly before her death, Jana expressed concern for the college education of her young children. I put her mind to rest by committing to set up a college trust fund for Patrick and Chelsea in order to give them a boost at the appropriate time in their lives. I'll never forget Jana's happy smile.

Since then, I have reported annually to our patrons on Jana's children and politely asked for year-end donations to their trust fund. Jana's many friends and coworkers consistently responded. Over the years, the fund grew but also suffered from the setbacks in our economy.

Patrick is now a sophomore at San Francisco State University. He is doing well, getting through his general education requirements and enjoying his time at State. Chelsea is a senior in high school, doing excellently academically and just now exploring her options for the next school year. It seemed the right time to give them access to the funds in the trust.

In mid-October my wife and I had the pleasure of sharing a meal with Patrick and Chelsea along with their dad, Jim. We had a great evening as we chatted endlessly. Patrick and Chelsea are intelligent, effervescent young adults with great senses of humor, too. I was happy to present each of them with a check for $10,000! Patrick and Chelsea, along with their dad, will establish special college bank accounts, so the funds can be used for books, tuition and other college-related expenses.

On behalf of Patrick, Chelsea, Jim and myself, I wish to thank you for staying connected to Jana by contributing to the well-being of her children in this wonderful manner. It is much appreciated!

Green Toys™ and Arriba Juntos

Our friends at Green Toys are once again joining with us to help our community partner Arriba Juntos with their La Posada celebration. For every Green Toy sold in the months of November and December, COLE HARDWARE and Green Toys will donate $1.00.

Arriba Juntos, meaning "upward together" in Spanish, is a community organization located in the Mission District whose mission is to promote economic self-sufficiency for San Franciscans and their families through occupational training and employment opportunities. Founded in 1965, Arriba Juntos has since expanded its vision to also provide education and employment programs on a

City-wide basis, serving many different ethnic groups and cultures.

Starting the week of Thanksgiving and through Christmas Eve, all COLE HARDWARE locations will be serving as collection points for Arriba Juntos's toy drive for their La Posada celebration. Las Posada is a colorful tradition celebrated in Mexico every evening from December 16 to 24 and by many members of our Mission Street staff and their families. Each night, a party is held in a neighborhood home with plenty of food and drink. At dusk guests gather outside the house and follow a procession with a child dressed as an

TOY DRIVE!

Bring in an unwrapped toy to any COLE HARDWARE from the week of Thanksgiving until Christmas eve.

angel leading the way for children, adults and musicians alike, as they sing and carry candles. Posada means "shelter" in Spanish, and when the group reaches its destination, half stay outside to ask those inside for refuge. The happy end to each Posada is a piñata, traditionally made in the shape of a star to recall the star of Bethlehem, which guided the three kings.

You can be a part of Arriba Juntos's La Posada by donating an unwrapped toy at the collection bins at any of our stores. To learn more about Arriba Juntos and the programs they offer, visit www.arribajuntos.org.

COLE HARDWARE offers the entire line of Green Toys, including their new fire truck. Like all Green Toys, the fire truck is sturdy, BPA-free and made from 100% recycled milk jugs just across the Bay Bridge. (Sku 936065, $24.99)

COMMUNITY PARTNERS

DONATE TO YOUR CHOICE OF MORE THAN 500 SCHOOLS OR COMMUNITY GROUPS WHEN YOU SHOP AT OUR STORES!

Every year we give away over $60,000 in goods and gift cards to our partner schools and nonprofit organizations in San Francisco. When checking out at our stores, customers mention their favorite school or group, and their transactions will then be posted to a special account for that group. A COLE HARDWARE gift card equal to 10% of all purchases credited to that account will be sent to the group the following year.

We will donate (with three weeks' notice) Clearly COLE HARDWARE bottled water to an organization's fund-raising events to be sold or given away—whichever brings the most benefit. In addition, we'll donate a COLE HARDWARE gift card for silent auctions or raffles as a fund-raising tool.

Teachers and principals in the San Francisco school district may register with us to receive a discount on school supplies, and we will work with nonprofits on a case-by-case basis to receive a discount on community improvement projects.

Visit www.colehardware.com/partners for more information about a partnership with us.
