INTERIOR DESIGN

LIZA EVANS | (415) 283 - 8373 | liza@lizaevans.com

WORK AREA: San Francisco / North Peninsula

WEBSITE: www.lizaevans.com

BIO: Hello - I'm a British-born, London-trained interior designer with a European design aesthetic, and I'm passionate about designing mindful homes for clients!

How does your home make you feel?

- * Does it fit your lifestyle?
- * Does it reflect your style?
- * Does it give you a sense of belonging?

I help people who work hard and play hard turn functional and sometimes stressful environments into restorative, peaceful homes that support growth and propel success.

My approach focuses on stimulating a sensory experience through an exploration of feng shui, colors, forms, materials, and reconnecting people with nature to emphasize the serenity and beauty of the space.

Whether you are looking to remodel a whole house or decorate a room, get in touch and let's start your journey to a mindful, restorative home together.

ORGANIZATION

DEBRA BAIDA - LIBERATED SPACES | (415) 902 - 6327 |

info@liberatedspaces.com

WORK AREA: San Francisco / North Peninsula / East Bay

WEBSITE: <https://liberatedspaces.com>

BIO: Debra Baida, founder of Liberated Spaces, is an organizer and a coach for people and their spaces, stuff, time, projects, and life transitions. Her collaborations are focused on helping clients create the clarity and ease they desire while making room for what matters most to them. She works with overwhelmed and variously disorganized clients in the Bay Area and beyond, guiding them towards increased productivity and reclaiming their inner and outer calm.

Deb has been both a San Francisco Green Business and a tradesperson in Cole Hardware's Repair Referral Service since 2008 and is the former leader of the National Association of Productivity and Organizing Professionals' Environmentally Conscious Organizers special interest group. She has appeared on KQED's Forum and PBS NewsHour, been a guest lecturer at Stanford's d.school, and been featured in numerous publications.

Prior to starting her business, she worked as a photo editor for two decades in New York and San Francisco. In many ways the transition from pictures to stuff made a lot of sense. Collaborating with photographers and art directors to edit images for the purpose of publishing impactful stories translated quite naturally into collaborating with clients so they can edit, embrace, and reclaim their spaces and continue to pursue and create their life stories.

STAINED GLASS

STEVE WILSON | (415) 971-8675 | stevenwilson1572@yahoo.com

WORK AREA: San Francisco / North Peninsula / East Bay

BIO: My business was started in 1972. At the time it was called Ye Old Stained Glass Curiosity Shop, focusing primarily on custom stained glass windows and restoration. In 1974 we added the name Looking Glass Collage Stained Glass. We also expanded to include selling blown art glass by other craftspeople and eventually also added fine handcrafted jewelry by Gail Mitchell, who uses precious and semi precious gemstones as well as silver and gold. Our original address was for 45 years at 1572 Haight Street, but in 2016 we moved our business to 1661 Tennessee Street in the Dogpatch neighborhood in San Francisco. By appointment only.
